

Employer Name: Coney Island Prep

Position Title: Apprentice Teacher

Location: 315 Avenue U, Brooklyn, New York City, New York 11223, United States

Industry: Education

Job Description:

The Apprentice Teacher position is a great opportunity for recent college graduates who are interested in a career in education, but do not have prior teaching experience or New York state certification. Offers to become a Coney Island Prep Apprentice Teacher are contingent upon acceptance into the Relay Graduate School of Education Teaching Residency, a two-year apprenticeship that allows you to gain valuable experience by taking on responsibilities both inside and outside of the classroom while receiving exceptional professional development throughout the year. Upon successfully completing the program, residents receive a Masters in the Art of Teaching (M.A.T.) degree and New York state certification.

The total cost of the Masters degree is highly subsidized through AmeriCorps grants and financial aid from Coney Island Prep, lowering the out-of-pocket expenses to just $1,250 per year. Your schedule as an Apprentice teacher will be created to accommodate your classes at Relay, and the support you receive from Coney Island Prep will be in conjunction with your coursework. As an Apprentice Teacher, you will receive training in many aspects of teaching, including mindsets and professionalism, classroom management, and teaching a rigorous, complete lesson.

Commitment

There is no more urgent task than to educate students from low-income backgrounds. So we hire professionals who are committed to the core. It's high-energy, fast-paced, tiring and sometimes all-consuming. But we wouldn't have it any other way. And neither would you. You own your work and when you reach your goals, you reach higher. Our educators work incredibly hard, and are inspired by the urgency of what we do. We need teachers who aren't afraid to ask for help, feedback, and support. They're driven by personal responsibility, data, and results, and they're not above doing whatever's asked. They make friends at work, smile through hectic days, and add a little levity along the way.

What We Have to Offer

There are plenty of ways you can make an impact. And our team is all in. You have the opportunity to work with students, and there's always someone who's got your back from coaching you through a tough day to helping you grow professionally. And while the environment can be fast paced and ever-changing, you'll have all of the technology and caffeine you need to get the job done.

Responsibilities

- Assume a high level of personal responsibility for the progress of all students
- Create academically rigorous lesson plans, materials, and assessments, and differentiate as needed
- Teach engaging, rigorous, and relevant lessons daily

Employer Description:

OUR MISSION

Students at Coney Island Preparatory Public Charter School will develop the academic skills and character necessary for success in selective colleges and universities, and the career of their choice. Students will realize success through a rigorous academic program, with a strong focus on writing, in a supportive and structured school environment.

OUR HISTORY

Initially housed in just four rooms of the Carey Gardens Community Center on Coney Island's Surf Avenue, Coney Island Prep opened in August 2009 with a class of 90 eager fifth graders. A school of firsts, Coney Island Prep was the first in the city to be located within a New York Public Housing Authority housing development.

From these humble beginnings, Coney Island Prep has grown each year. To accommodate this expansion, in 2011, the middle school relocated to a shared space with I.S. 303 and the Rachel Carson High School for Coastal Studies. In fall 2013, with our first cohort of scholars ready for ninth grade, we opened our high school campus in a newly renovated space on Avenue T, in the heart of South Brooklyn. Finally, amid increasing community demand for high quality elementary school options, we continued our growth by launching Coney Island Prep's elementary school in August 2014.

At full capacity by the 2017-18 school year, we will be the academic home of more than 1,000 scholars—300 elementary school, 360 middle school, and 360 high school students.
