Employer Description

Advancing a new model of higher education that moves beyond the traditional boundaries of place, Northeastern is developing a system of regional campuses in selected cities. The first, in Charlotte, North Carolina, launched in 2011. Northeastern opened a second graduate campus in Seattle, Washington, in 2013, a third in Silicon Valley in 2015, and is opening its Toronto campus this year. These academic hubs offer graduate degrees aligned with their regions' educational, workforce, and economic development needs, including programs in emerging fields, such as cybersecurity and health informatics.
