Since 1983, M&T's Management Development Program (MDP) has been the entry point for undergraduate students of all majors looking to further develop their leadership skills and grow their business acumen.

What can you expect from the Management Development Program?

- Non-rotational program with a direct-placement position, where you immediately add value
- Intensive training in communication, leadership, and finance; enabling you to apply these skills in daily roles
- Access to an instant peer group that is passionate about serving M&T's communities and provide an understanding of all divisions at the bank
- Networking opportunities with senior leadership

Who We Are:

The business of Banking has changed. Economic conditions, the regulatory environment, competition, consumer preferences and expectations, and the general perception of the financial services industry are vastly different than they were even 10 years ago. Despite the changing landscape, the vision of M&T remains as relevant as ever. We anticipate that the pace of change will accelerate, and we have embarked on an ambitious transformation journey to adapt to this new environment to achieve future success. Through this initiative, we have established a set of principles and strategic objectives that guide how and where we will change. As we progress we are looking to the Management Development Program as a source of valuable talent to help us change and adapt.

Employer Description:

M&T Bank's vision is to be the best company our employees ever work for, the best bank our customers ever do business with, and the best investment our shareholders ever make. Our commitment to living up to our values and truly "understanding what's important" have helped make us one of the best performing regional banks in the nation and a Fortune 500 company.

We've worked hard to create a culture that is inclusive, collaborative and diverse because it makes a difference in the way we work together. Our team members work well in a fast-paced, results-oriented, customer-focused environment and we encourage our employees to learn skills that will allow them to grow their careers while improving our products and services. Extra perks like wellness programs and tuition reimbursement, as well as discounts on cultural activities and sporting events reward employee dedication and emphasize the importance of work-life balance. On average, our employees have a tenure that's twice as long as their counterparts at other banks.

An environment like this helps inspire a passion and unyielding commitment to doing the right thing – not just for each other, but also for our customers, clients, and communities. The ideals of mutual respect, confidence and trust make M&T Bank a rewarding place to work.
